FOUNDATION HONORS LEGACY COUNCIL MEMBERS

Many of the amenities enjoyed by Rancho Santa Fe residents today exist because of the dedication, foresight and generosity of those who came before. Many of those people were honored at a reception on March 6th at The Inn ... those who have made us aware of a gift or bequest to the Foundation at the end of their lifetimes, through their estate.

The Legacy Council was created to recognize these people who are responsible for the splendid library, beautiful garden club, Little League field and community center and many other community assets that we all have come to enjoy. Many of these gifts have had no restrictions on them, which enables the Foundation to utilize future income from these to address the most important needs of the community.

Have you considered what your legacy will be to the community? Should you wish to discuss the many options available, we invite you to contact our office and join this Legacy Council tradition as we seek to preserve and enhance our community with gifts that keep on giving.
